SEPARATING THE SYSTEMS OGDEN AGAINST PROPOSED BILL

Up on the Railroad Commission Matter.

At a special meeting of the Ogden Retail Merchants' association, held yesterday afternoon, the action taken at a held Thursday last, when the the association went on record as endorsing the railroad commission bill now pending before the state legislature, was re-made representations concerning the same that have since been found to be intrue. Among the claims set forth by these individuals was the statement that both F. J. Kiesel and Willard Scowcroft of Ogden were to speak at a certain meeting to be held in Salt Lake and voice heir sentiments in favor of the passage the railroad commission bill. Both of the passage have since depied any f the railroad commission bill. Both of the men named have since denied any uch intention; in fact, it is claimed that oth Mr. Scowcroft and Mr. Kiesel are trongly opposed to the bill. The con-ensus of opinion among the local busi-ess men seems to be that the railroads ness men seems to be that the railroads running in and out of this city have been doing all right by them considering the many disadvantages under which they have been working. It has been officially stated that the placing of new offices in both the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific yards was merely for the purpose of facilitating the handling of trains through the local yards. For some time past the yards have been in a congested condition and it was hoped in this way to overcome much of the delay in getting trains, both east and west, out of the yard. The claim is now set up, however, that this action by the Harriman people is merely another step in favor of segregation of the three lines of that system now passing through this city. the failroad commission was rescaled by an unanimous vote.

Members of the association who were in attendance at yesterday's meeting refused to discuss the matter for publication. It is understood, however, that at the time the bill was endorsed there was not a full understanding as to the provisions of the same. Since that time in investigation has been made and it investigation has been made and it an investigation has been made and it was this that brought about the change made yesterday. The action taken would molicate that the Ogden merchants were not satisfied with the measure and virtually opposed its passage.

Senators Warren and Carter, Representative Mondell and Forester Pinchot were in attendance, and the proposed amendment to the agricultural appropriation in attendance, and the proposed amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill, which has been given in these dispatches, was gone over in detail preliminary to further action to be taken upon it at a meeting to be held tomorrow with the public lands commission. It was stated by Senator Warren that President Roosevelt favors the enactment of some experimental legislation at this session of congress which will relieve the general government from the necessity of carrying into effect the provisions of the fence law and thereby inflicting severe hardships upon a large number of western communities in fencing greater or lesser areas of public lands; and at the same time inaugurate a system of range control to conserve the grasses and prevent constant conflicts arising between those who strive for free use of the public range.

The plates were in the custody of the comptroller's representative and each day were delivered to Quayle. The paper first used was an ordinary commercial sort, which, Comptroller Glynn said, was stored in the Quayle shop under an ordinary lock in an ordinary room, and while the sheets were counted out before printing there was no safeguard to prevent their being abstracted. Moreover, the comptroller declares the count of sheets does not tally, the explanation being that some of it was used for other purposes.

The first issue was found to be susceptible to counterfeiting, and in May or June of last year the printing of these was stopped and a new issue was begun on patent paper.
